One of the major cities of the nation is scheduled this week to begin the operation of a paper recycling plant as a subsidiary to its sanitation collection services and as a partial answer to ecological preservation.

At the other end of the paper cycle—the raw material out of which comes pulpwood for paper products, Southland Paper Mills, a pioneering Texas corporation in newsprint manufacture, is completing this month the planting of 6 million pine seedlings in half a dozen East and South Texas counties.

Both are laudable projects. In the case of Southland Paper Mills, the primary objective is to help meet, through annual reforestation, projected pulpwood requirements through the year 2000.

It is through similar programs not only by Southland but also by other paper mills, and by manufacturers of all kinds of products for whom wood is a basic raw material, that the entire South—between East Texas and the Atlantic Ocean—now has more and better forested areas of pine than at any time since the first woodcutters arrived.

As cutover land has been reforested, as farmed out land has been converted back to forest, not only future wood needs are assured but also there has been a marked increase in wildlife and recreational opportunities for people.

The recycling plant and the reforestation program have a lot in common as good business practices and as practical ecology.—Wichita Falls (Tex.) Times

Government In The Sunshine
There's a good ring about the name "sunshine" as applied to a law enacted by the Georgia General Assembly to open official state and local meetings to the public.

The sunshine law does let the sun shine in previously dark places. As logical as our explanation is, that's not where the name came from. It was modeled after an open-meeting law in Florida, which is known for its sunshine. But whatever the background of the name, government in the sunshine has healthful connotations.—New Orleans (La.) Lindbergh Group Is Rescued by Copters

MANILA (AP) — Charles A. Lindbergh and Philippine scientists stranded in the jungle with a colony of 20th century cave dwellers were evacuated Sunday by a U.S. Air Force helicopter.

Lindbergh, the American who made history 45 years ago with the first nonstop solo flight across the Atlantic, was smiling broadly after the unexpected end to the 11-day expedition.

"We were in no danger but we were stranded and running low on food. The Air Force did an excellent job," Lindbergh said after the 47 members of the expedition were flown to their base camp in the southern Philippines. Lindbergh returned to Clark Air Force Base to express his appreciation for the rescue.

The Air Force was called in after the expedition's helicopter broke down, stranding the scientists in the mountainous, damp Tasaday Forest about 600 miles south of Manila.

On March 23, the scientists found the Tasaday people, only 24 in number, at their cave 4,000 feet up in the mountains. The expedition gathered data on the primitive cave dwellers and mapped their living and working area to protect it from future exploiters of the surrounding forest. Preparing to break camp Saturday, the scientists found their helicopter was out of commission. Food was running low and it would take eight to ten days to hike down to the base camp, some 50 miles away.

Manuel Elizalde Jr., the 36-year-old leader of the expedition, radioed for assistance, and it came Sunday, in the form of a big helicopter accompanied by a C130 tanker for refueling in the air.

Lindbergh and Elizalde made a farewell visit to the cave-dwellers, who regarded Elizalde as a god and had pleaded for him to stay with them. The Philippine scientist urged them to continue their own way of life in the forest and assured them he would return soon.

Davis Trial Resumes

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The trial of black revolutionary Angela Davis resumes today with testimony from an assistant district attorney wounded in a 1970 courthouse shootout in which a judge and three other persons died.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas, who was taken hostage, shot and permanently paralyzed from the waist down, is to take the stand at the start of the trial's second week.

Miss Davis is charged with murder, kidnap and conspiracy and accused of furnishing the guns and plotting the abortive escape try from the Marin County Civic Center on Aug. 7, 1970.

In her opening statement to the all-white jury of eight women and four men, the former UCLA philosophy instructor said she was innocent of the charges and did not "knowingly" provide any guns.

Prosecutor Albert Harris Jr. contends Miss Davis engineered the escape attempt in an effort to free the Soledad Brothers.

Priest Guilty on One Count

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) —

Antiwar priest Philip Berrigan has been found guilty of smuggling a letter out of a federal prison. The Harrisburg Seven jury, deadlocked on nine other counts, resumes deliberations today.

One of the counts alleges a conspiracy by the defendants to kidnap White House aide Henry A. Kissinger.

U.S. District Court Judge R. Dixon Herman told the jury Sunday he would not let them stop deliberations because of what he said was the importance and cost of the 11-week trial. He said he would dismiss the jury only after it became "hopelessly deadlocked."

The panel found Berrigan guilty Sunday afternoon of smuggling a letter out of prison, for which he could get up to 10 years in jail. The decision was announced after 33 hours of deliberation over four days.

Unresolved were these counts on which the jury said it could not reach unanimous decisions:

—The key conspiracy charge against all seven defendants to kidnap Kissinger, obtain guns and explosives, blow up tunnels of a government heating system in Washington, D.C., and vandalize draft board offices and other federal agencies around the country.

—Two counts that deal with letters exchanged by Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth McAlister containing a threat to kidnap Kissinger.

—Six that deal with attempts to smuggle prison mail.

Herman rejected a defense motion of prejudice because of the split verdict at the same time he ordered the jury to continue deliberating.

"Because of the expense of the trial and the unlikelihood that in a retrial we could get a better jury, I'm going to ask you to go back and try to reach a verdict on the other counts," the judge told the jurors.

It was estimated that the 15-month-old case has cost the government nearly $1 million, and the defense about half that.

Cites Areas Where Busing a Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's top civil-rights enforcer says President Nixon's proposed freeze on court-ordered busing for school desegregation may bring public attention to progress in other areas.

J. Stanley Pottinger, director of the U.S. Office for Civil Rights, said the emotional busing issue has obscured advances in equal rights for women and Spanish-speaking minorities and equal employment by government contractors.

"Unfortunately, there is a perception on the part of a substantial part of the public that all that this office does ... is engage in busing plans," he said.

"That's just wholly incorrect. A great many developments in civil rights have occurred that are being implemented with excitement and with vigor and with results that are not addressed very much in the press."

In a wide-ranging interview, Pottinger made his first public comments on the White House antibusing legislation sent to Congress more than two weeks ago.

The proposed busing moratorium, he said, "will redefine remedies in such a way that the limits on busing will be clear. They will not be total but

Carriers Recalled to Aid Massive Air Raids

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The United States recalled two aircraft carriers to the Tonkin gulf today to reinforce a massive air strike force preparing to hit back at an enemy offensive in South Vietnam's northernmost province.

"When the weather clears we're going to sock it to them," said one senior pilot.

The carrier Kitty Hawk arrived in waters off Vietnam today and the Constellation was steaming in from Japan to join the Coral Sea and the Hancock. The four carriers and their approximately 275 warplanes, combined with 250 Air Force jets at bases in South Vietnam and Thailand, will form the biggest U.S. attack force since the 1968 bombing halt.

The U.S. Command strongly indicated massive air strikes are planned—against North Vietnam to retaliate for the enemy offensive across the demilitarized zone and against enemy troops and materiel already engaged south of the zone.

U.S. pilots said targets inside North Vietnam would include long-range artillery guns bombarding South Vietnamese positions across the DMZ and a reserve infantry division poised just north of the zone.

Other key targets will include tanks, self-propelled artillery pieces and other heavy equipment that North Vietnam is using more than ever before in the Indochina war.

Forecasters said they did not expect fully clear skies until Tuesday or Wednesday. But the U.S. Command set the stage for the massive retaliatory attack with a statement that the North Vietnamese attack across the demilitarized zone threatened U.S. forces still in Vietnam, and the command was utilizing its "remaining air and gunfire assets as appropriate to protect our diminishing forces."

The North Vietnamese ground attack slowed down today, but the Communists pushed more heavy weapons across the demilitarized zone and U.S. fighter-bombers and destroyers pounded a column of 50 North Vietnamese tanks below the DMZ.

The invading North Vietnamese pushed 10 miles below the DMZ over the weekend, driving the South Vietnamese from two more bases and shooting down three U.S. helicopters and a small spotter plane. Eight American helicopter crewmen were missing and believed dead.

Other Communist forces attacked Fire Base Anne, eight miles west of Quang Tri City; overran an artillery base on the Cambodian border, Fire Base Pace; and kept up artillery attacks in the central highlands. But the North Vietnamese withdrew from Pace, and the South Vietnamese reoccupied it today, the Saigon command said.

The North Vietnamese also were reported moving anti-aircraft missile launchers to the frontier to attack American and South Vietnamese planes below the DMZ.

A break in the heavy cloud cover allowed U.S. jets to make 128 strikes against enemy gun and troop positions below the buffer zone, the heaviest raids in South Vietnam since Feb. 18.

Apprehended Inside Laundry

City Police reported that a Negro male listed as Lee Warren Davis, 20, was apprehended in the National Laundry building at 1:30 a.m. Monday. Police said he was trying to break into the laundry safe.

Officers also said that Leo's Garage next to laundry had been entered but so far as could be determined nothing was missing.

Arresting officers were Edwards, R. Rowe and Sulzer. Davis was turned over to the Sheriff's Department for prosecution.

S. Vietnam Army Doing Well

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. defense officials say the South Vietnamese army is doing "pretty well" against the new North Vietnamese offensive, but that the main test is yet to come.

Military and civilian officials skirted any flat judgments on the basis of action so far, saying "the situation is fluid ... it's too early to call."

However, they disputed any suggestion that the South Vietnamese withdrawal from a string of fire-support bases and outposts below the demilitarized zone amounts to a serious setback. The officials said the outposts were not intended as a main line of resistance.

"There has been no rout," said one senior military officer who has been closely monitoring the situation.

Another top official acknowledged that withdrawal from one base had been "a little ragged," but said South Vietnamese troops pulled out of most forward positions in good order.

There was a cautious tone to the observations made on the basis of South Vietnamese performance in the first four days of the long-awaited enemy offensive.

The Nixon administration is aware that this offensive may show just how well the South Vietnamese army can stand up in battle against the North Vietnamese after years of training, preparation, re-equipping and support by the United States.

There are no U.S. ground-combat forces available to back up the South Vietnamese this time, and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has stressed that no U.S. ground troops will be reintroduced.

Significant U.S. air power is available but bad weather has limited air operations.

American officials here estimated the North Vietnamese force in the new offensive at between 20,000 and 30,000 men, a somewhat lower figure than reported from the field.

Seeks Attorney General's Post

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ed Bethune, 36, a Searcy lawyer and a former FBI agent, announced Sunday that he would run as a Republican for attorney general.

In his announcement Bethune said the nation is dealing with criminals with "horse and buggy police and court procedures."

He said the state Criminal Code Revision Commission, of which he is a member, was working to modernize the procedures, but that more needed to be done.

"We must develop educational and administrative programs to ensure that the procedures are understood and put to use fairly and uniformly," he said.

The other candidates for the office are Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker of Little Rock and Bill Thompson of Fort Smith, both Democrats.

Bethune said people are tired of "white collar crime."

"They are fed up with those who violate positions of trust in government," Bethune said. "They are fed up with industrial polluters. They are fed up with social, political and economic figures who seem to always be just behind the reach of the law."

"There's a lot of fat in the criminal justice system that can be trimmed out," he said.

HUD Told Not to Use Dunn & Bradstreet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has ordered all 87 HUD offices across the country to stop doing business with Dunn & Bradstreet, Inc., the national credit-rating firm charged by a federal grand jury in connection with a New York real estate scandal.

At the same time, the department said in an announcement Sunday, HUD's Federal Housing Administration has suspended its national contract with the firm under which it has purchased commercial credit information on businesses and individual enterprises.

Local and regional FHA offices have been ordered not to rely on individual Dunn & Bradstreet credit reports for any single-family mortgage-insurance transaction.

Dunn & Bradstreet sells credit reports on individual applicants to private mortgage companies that may use them in deciding whether to approve a mortgage loan. The loans then may qualify for FHA mortgage insurance.

Dunn & Bradstreet was the largest of 10 firms and 40 individuals named in federal indictments handed down in Brooklyn, N.Y., last week. The indictments charged seven present and former FHA employees, including the top FHA underwriter in New York state, with taking bribes in a conspiracy to sell slum housing to low-income people who couldn't keep up payments on the mortgages.

When the homeowners defaulted on their FHA-insured mortgages, the grand jury said, the FHA had to pay off the loans.

Two Accidents, Heavy Damage

City Police investigated two accidents on the weekend, the first at 16th and Elm involving vehicles driven by Eugene Edwards, Rt. 3, Hope and Charles Johnson, Rt. 2, Hope. There was very heavy damage. Officers Stovall and McCulley charged Johnson with hazardous driving, failure to yield the right of way and no driver's license.

Also Saturday on Patmos road vehicles driven by Mrs. Glennie Tunstall and Clinton R. Hatch collided. City Officers said Mrs. Tunstall was backing out of driveway and Hatch hit his brakes, skidded and hit the Tunstall vehicle in the rear. Hatch was charged with hazardous driving.

There will be an independent basketball tournament in the Spring Hill gymnasium from April 3 through April 8. Games start at 6:30 p.m.

Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 will have a regular meeting Tuesday, April 4 at 7:30 p.m.

The City Police weekly report shows 20 traffic violations, 10 license, three liquor charges, five arrested for drunkenness, four for driving while intoxicated, three charged with larceny, one for having obscene literature, one for giving an overdraft, one charged with indecent exposure and one for failure to answer a summons. There were eight wrecks bringing the year's total to 84 with nine persons injured.

The Annie D. Payne listed in the court docket last week is not the Annie L. Payne who lives at Patmos.

Late Winter Blast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A late blast of winter, in the form of an Arctic cold wave, swept down over the northern Plains today, spurring cold wave warnings for the Dakotas where temperatures were expected to fall to near zero.

Snow along the leading edge of the cold front brought on stockmen's warnings from eastern Wyoming to Nebraska and Kansas.

Freeze warnings were issued for Oklahoma tonight.

Another cold air mass drifted into the South Atlantic states, bringing frost warnings as far south as northern Georgia.

A few showers and snow flurries were reported in New England, while scattered showers sprinkled the lower Ohio Valley, eastern Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Repeats Denial on ITT Memo

NEW YORK (AP) — Dita Beard, the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. lobbyist who collapsed a week ago while testifying before a Senate subcommittee, has left her hospital bed to give a television interview.

Mrs. Beard, 53, has been hospitalized in Denver with a heart ailment since March 3, shortly after columnist Jack Anderson printed a controversial memorandum attributed to her.

In the interview shown Sunday night on CBS' "60 Minutes," Mrs. Beard repeated her denial that she had written sections of the memo dealing with the government's settling of three antitrust cases against ITT.

The memo sparked a Senate subcommittee probe of a possible link between the out-of-court antitrust settlement and an ITT pledge of financial assistance to the GOP National Convention in San Diego.

A week ago Sunday the subcommittee members went to her room in the Rocky Mountain Osteopathic Hospital but their inquiry was cut short when she collapsed. Her doctors said she might never be able to testify again.

Before her collapse, Mrs. Beard had promised an interview to CBS correspondent Mike Wallace. Afterward she reaffirmed the arrangement and it was taped Saturday at an apartment in the Denver area.

Don Hewitt, executive producer of "60 Minutes," said Mrs. Beard put a hospital gown over her street clothes for the interview. She returned to the hospital and was readmitted following the interview.

In the interview, Mrs. Beard said that as a Washington lobbyist she did everything from recommending a dentist to advising on campaigns to handling requests for use of the ITT planes

Charges ITT Paid No Taxes in Three Years

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern charges that the giant International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. didn't pay federal income taxes the past three years. He retracted a second accusation that ITT listed a controversial $400,000 contribution to the Republican National Convention as a business expense.

McGovern's charges against the conglomerate, storm center of Senate hearings on President Nixon's nomination of Richard Kleindienst as attorney general, were made on a nationally televised television show on an otherwise quiet Sunday before Tuesday's Wisconsin presidential primary.

Citing documents used by members of the Senate Judiciary Committee in questioning ITT President Harold Gengen last Wednesday, the South Dakota senator said reports on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission indicate ITT paid no federal income tax for 1968, 1969 and 1970.

He said some subsidiaries "may have paid a tax."

He appeared on the CBS-TV program "Face the Nation."

In New York, an ITT spokesman denied McGovern's assertion, saying the company's consolidated operation paid taxes in 1968, 1969, 1970 and 1971. Earlier, ITT Vice President Edward Wallace declined comment, adding, "I'll check it out for you tomorrow."

McGovern and his top Democratic rivals scheduled dawn-to-dusk stumping through Wisconsin's farmlands and industrial plants in a final drive for votes Tuesday.

The South Dakota senator and his Minnesota colleague, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, are rated as the leaders in the 12-candidate field seeking Wisconsin's 67 votes at the Democratic National Convention.

President Nixon is expected to sweep the 28 Republican delegates.

Humphrey had the day's stiffest schedule, nearly 20 hours campaigning from the Kenosha-Racine area in the industrial southeast to La Crosse in the rural west.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace had the lightest schedule, with news conferences in Kenosha and Racine and a night rally in Sheboygan.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the onetime Democratic front-runner, canceled appearances in Wausau and Green Bay to prepare a television speech.

Muskie and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, fighting to close in on the likely primary leaders, joined McGovern in warning Sunday against new U.S. military moves in Indochina as a reaction to the big new North Vietnamese offensive.

Would Keep Up Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., says that to halt the investigation of Atty. Gen.-designate Richard Kleindienst and the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. would be "an insult and an injustice to the people."

He said Saturday that Senate Judiciary Committee hearings should continue "until not only the Senate but the American public can be satisfied that all the facts in the case are known."

"Serious questions have been raised about the influence of a powerful conglomerate on decisions at the highest levels of the federal government," he said.

The Judiciary Committee is to vote Thursday on whether to continue its hearings. The investigation has centered on the allegation that ITT agreed to help underwrite the cost of the Republican National Convention in exchange for a favorable settlement by the Justice Department of pending antitrust suits against the firm. The committee has looked into Kleindienst's possible role in the settlement.

"If the vote Thursday is to terminate the hearings, then we will have the right to ask if the influence of ITT extends even into the deliberations of the Senate Judiciary Committee," said Pryor, who is running against Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., in the Democratic primary.

Tax System Vulnerable

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The director of the state's Assessment Coordination Division says the Arkansas property tax system is in a "position of vulnerability" under the U.S. Constitution.

Director Joe Burlingame said that for this reason the system must be reconstructed or at least strengthened by legislative action.

Burlingame said the state's basic assessment act provided for the fundamentals of an effective property tax system except for assessing intangible personal property.

He said that as long as his division must continue its present method of functioning, it will remain vulnerable to court attacks based on the 14th Amendment guarantees of due process and equal protection of the laws.

Decision in Tax Case Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court held today that Bracy Development Co. Inc. was entitled to a corporate income tax deduction for a net operating loss incurred by a company with which Bracy merged.

State law and prior decisions by the Supreme Court are silent on whether a net operating loss carryover available to a corporation as a deduction is available to another corporation with which the first firm has merged.

Associate Justice J. Fred Jones, writing the majority opinion, was careful to point out that the court was not going so far as to say in today's ruling that, in the absence of further statutory clarification, the net business loss suffered by any corporation may be carried over as a tax deduction by any other corporation after a merger.

The ruling reversed a decision by Chancellor John T. Jernigan of Little Rock.

The merger was between Bracy Development and Bracy Realty Inc., with Bracy Development the surviving company. Both corporations, primarily in the business of constructing public housing projects, had the same principal place of business and the same officers.

Bracy Development, after the merger, had sought a deduction for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1968, for a $164,500 operating loss accumulated by Bracy Realty.

But Dr. Max Milam, then the director of the state Department of Finance and Administration, disallowed the deduction and assessed Bracy Development an additional tax of $8,075.

In reversing Jernigan's decision, the Supreme Court said the deduction was allowed under the "continuity of business enterprise" theory set out in a North Carolina Supreme Court case. Under the North Carolina ruling, there is a continuity of business enterprise when the income-producing business has not been altered, enlarged or materially affected by the merger.

Justice Jones said it was clear that the deduction claimed by Bracy Development would have been available to Bracy Realty if there had been no merger or if Bracy Development had merged with the other corporation, rather than the other way around.

He said it appeared that the business of Bracy Development was not materially affected by the merger and that it constituted or at least included "a continuation of the business enterprise of Bracy Realty, but on a much sounder financial basis..."

Chief Justice Carleton Harris and Justice George Rose Smith dissented.

Veterans Name a President

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dewey Spencer of Cotton Plant, who attends State College of Arkansas, has been elected president of the newly organized Arkansas Association of Collegiate Veterans.

Spencer said the purpose of the organization—formed Saturday—was to "join together the veterans clubs on college campuses to provide a collective voice for the veterans."

He said the group would seek legislation in Arkansas to help veterans.

Chuck McCracken of Concord, a student at the Beebe branch of Arkansas State University, was named vice president of the organization. Jim Hunter of West Helena, who attends SCA, was elected treasurer. Jim Brown of Little Rock, a student at Arkansas State, was named secretary.

THREE KILLED ON HIGHWAYS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three persons were killed in separate accidents in Arkansas during the Easter weekend.

The Associated Press weekend fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

State Police said Inez Roundtree, 54, of near Camden was fatally injured Saturday in a two-car accident on U.S. 79, north of Camden.

Also killed Saturday was Odis Lee Hayes, 55, of Little Rock, who is blind, when he walked into the path of a car on a Little Rock city street.

Donald M. Lambert, 21, of Paron (Saline County) was killed Saturday when he lost control of his car and it struck a bridge abutment.

Curfew at Morrilton

Morrilton, Ark. (AP) — A curfew was imposed here Sunday night because of racial tension this past weekend.

Mayor T.A. Hickey said he decided to impose the curfew following a fight between black and white teenagers during a community dance Friday night. He said there also was unrest in Morrilton Saturday night, but he said he knew of no arrests either night.

"As the result of the incident (the fight), there has been considerable tensions and for security reasons I have decided to have a curfew," Hickey said Sunday night.

The curfew was to run from 8:30 p.m. Sunday until 6 a.m. Monday.

Candidates Get Chance

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. Bill Becker, president of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO, says candidates for the U.S. Senate may be invited to speak to the union's Committee on Political Education (COPE) convention in Hot Springs.

Becker said he would ask the organization's executive committee to invite the candidates to address COPE because of what he said was the importance of the Senate election. The COPE convention will be April 13-15.

Becker said the Senate race probably was one of the most important elections to labor since the merger of the AFL and CIO in Arkansas in 1956.

He said if McClellan is not beaten by one of the Democratic challengers in the primary, the Republicans would be able to put together "one hell of a coalition" and defeat the senator.

Manner Was Unusual

BEATRICE, Neb. (AP) — The message of Easter was carried in an unusual manner Sunday by a class at St. Paul Lutheran Church.

The class released 250 balloons with the message "Jesus Lives."

Facilities Discussed
Paul Henley and the Parks and Recreation Department of the City of Hope were featured in a program at the Hope Rotary Club meeting on Friday, March 31, at the Town and Country. Rotarian Garland Medders introduced the speaker who expressed his appreciation for the co-operation given to him by everyone in performing his job as head of the Parks and Recreation Department. He also acknowledged the good work being done in other departments of the city government.

The various phases of activity in Parks and Recreation and plans for the immediate future were discussed, including the Junior Olympics program, plans for an improved track program at Hope High, a Little League baseball tournament to be held in Hope May 1 and prospects for improvements in the facilities at the swimming pool and the tennis courts in Fair Park. Some of these improvements may be realized through a federal grant.

Dr. Sam Strong, club president, welcomed two guests, Frank G. Turley, manager of T.G. & Y., and Bill Georges of Richardson, Tex.

Watkins and Anne-Marie, his English wife of 16 days, made a dash through the night Sunday from Liverpool in time for her to give birth to a 7½-pound boy at Hillington Hospital on the outskirts of London.

The boy is to be named Mario Alan Lovelace. Watkins, currently appearing at a London night spot, has four sons by a previous marriage.

SHOWBEAT
TV Viewers Like Their Own Stars

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—O.K., class. Imagine that you are in charge of casting for a big TV show. You have your choice of two stars for a leading role. One is Leonard Nimoy. The other is Dustin Hoffman. Which one would you sign?

If you answer "Hoffman," you get a D. The correct answer is Nimoy because, with TV audiences, his name means a lot more than Hoffman.

That's because, as Stanley Robertson explains it, there are really two separate and distinct audiences in the United States. Robertson is vice-president in charge of motion pictures for television at NBC. It's his business to know these things.

"There are some stars who are movie stars," Robertson says, "and some stars who are TV stars. In our surveys, we find that TV audiences like people like Leonard Nimoy, although Dustin Hoffman is much bigger in theaters, of course."

"Nimoy wouldn't sell a ticket at the box office—but Hoffman wouldn't get any kind of a rating on TV. We've learned that the movie audience is made up, at least 77 per cent of it, of people between 14 and 25. The TV audience is mostly under 14 and over 25."

Robertson is one of the more interesting men in high TV positions. He's undoubtedly the most influential black man in TV.

He's from Los Angeles originally and his mother used to work as a domestic for Joan Crawford. He became a newspaperman, with the Los Angeles Sentinel, a black newspaper; and then moved to the editorial staff of Ebony magazine.

"I realized," he says, "that I'd still be just one of the staff 20 years later, so I quit."

Even though he and his wife were expecting their first child, he gambled—and won. He went to school and studied radio and television and got a job at NBC—as a page. He's worked his way up, gradually, to his vice-presidency.

THE DECORATIVE DECORATOR

Barbara Taylor Bradford is a good-looking ex-actress from England who has become a leading writer in the specialized field of home decorating. And she says that American women, thanks largely to movies and television, are becoming better decorators of their own homes.

She says that they see nice homes on the screen—the singles out the house that's used on The New Dick Van Dyke Show as an example of good taste in TV—and are doing their own interiors with increasingly good taste.

Mrs. Bradford also believes that commercials help in this good work, too. She says there's a "visual awareness" of what's good, because of what the women see on TV.

"Hollywood is definitely a trend-setter," she says. "Many of today's most exciting trends started here—lots of white, steel-and-glass, the wet look, dark rooms with dark green or brown walls, the Egyptian look—they all began on TV or in movies."

Mrs. Bradford, whose latest book is "Easy Steps to Successful Decorating," is a good friend of many Hollywood types. And she says she's never been in a really badly done Hollywood house—"I haven't seen one yet that is too flashy or ostentatious."

For the particularly good ones she singles out the homes of Peggy Lee, Ross Hunter, Mark Robson, Roger Williams, Edward G. Robinson, Edith Head and Elke Sommer and Joe Hyams.

Elke's house would be well done if it was just bare walls, and Elke

Chaplin Arrives in U.S. Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Chaplin, ending a 20-year absence from the United States, arrives from Bermuda today for a four-day visit.

Chaplin, the 82-year-old comic and silent film star, will be accompanied by his wife, Oona, and other members of the family.

He is to be guest of honor at a "Salute to Charlie Chaplin" as Lincoln Center Tuesday night. On Thursday, Mayor John V. Lindsay has invited him to Gracie Mansion to receive the Handel Medallion, the city's highest cultural award.

The actor is expected to go to Hollywood to receive a special award from the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences at the Oscar ceremonies next Monday.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring and summer are the times when television series go into drydock in Hollywood—the only time of the year when it is possible to repair mistakes of judgment, of casting or of concept.

Sandy Duncan's "Funny Face" was dropped from the CBS schedule when it ran out of episodes after the star underwent emergency eye surgery. It is reported to be undergoing a thorough refurbishing including a recasting of supporting performers.

The word is that Glenn Ford's "Cade's County," a contemporary Western, is scheduled for some format revision. The idea is to make the star more of a city slicker lawman—into a business suit and driving around in a conventional car instead of a Jeep.

covered were the events leading to the moment of Christ's death on the cross. The faces of those enacting important roles, particularly of the Apostles, were most appealing. The spiritual quality of Jesus was reflected in the face of Ron Greenblatt in difficult part, although he seemed to be extremely frail and slight of stature.

The somber program was followed by three run-of-the-mill comedy pilots, each apparently designed to appeal to very young audiences.

"Bobby Jo and the Big Apple Good Time Band" tried to combine the popularity of country rock with country comedy, and the comedy part was especially weak. "My Sister Hank" was folks-next-door comedy with a little tomboy determined to get on a Little League baseball team. "Miss Stewart, Sir" was fun and games on the football field for the beautiful house-mother at a boys' private school. They were all variations of very familiar TV themes.

Today in general: Grandiose schemes and ideas may appear to promise instant rewards and immediate success. It ain't necessarily so. Words to live by today: INTUITION AND INVESTIGATION.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Computer Dating Firm a Gyp
Dear Helen:

A warning to people who expect to get mates via computer dating: check thoroughly first!

For $500 I was thoroughly "tested," and told I would receive as many as ten referrals every month for five full years. These "dates" would be from my area and were guaranteed compatible to me.

In two years, I have been able to contact only three referrals, all of whom turned out to be duds. The others lived up to 300 miles away from me. I never received over two names a month and most weren't from my home state. No one has ever contacted me.

I called the dating service and found the phone had been disconnected. I tried the New York office—same results. They continue to send me names I can't contact, from an office I can't locate. I can't prove fraud, because they are providing names, but most definitely, I was "hooked!"

There's probably no way I can get my $500 back, but maybe I can keep other suckers from losing their money. — COMPUTER LOSER

Dear C.L.:
It's my opinion that if you risk more than $25 on mechanical matchmaking, you're being "hooked." Those who spend $500 on a five-year service can't expect very much of the computer—or themselves—else why would it take five years to do the job?

True, "mating by machine" works about one-third of the time (if you find an honest company), but you could do almost as well on blind dates.

Your advice to other hopefuls, "C.L., is so right: check first and don't expect miracles. I'll add: don't sign any long-range expensive contracts, for you might find the perfect mate in the first batch of names (but don't count on it). —H.

Dear Helen:
When people come to visit me, I expect to turn off TV and visit, or else let them share a really good program with me, if they wish.

But this boring dame drops in about three times a week, criticizes what I'm watching, tells me about a "great" program on another channel—and then when I turn to it, I find she's dropped off to sleep on the sofa before it's half over. But if I switch stations, she's awake like a flash, complaining.

She doesn't have a color set. I do—and I'd like to watch my favorites for a change. Without hurting her feelings, how can I? —PEEVED OVER T.V.

Dear Helen:
It's your house, your TV set and your sofa. If the dame doesn't like your programs, tell her she can sleep on someone else's couch. Which may hurt HER feelings, but will relieve yours. —H.

Dear Helen:
This guy divorced his first wife to marry me. They have a baby. Now he has left me and is going steady with his first wife. I am pregnant. Do you suppose he doesn't like pregnant women, since his "ex" was six months along when he left her? Should I give him a divorce or hope he'll change when the baby comes? —T.W.

Dear T.:
If you really thought of him as your husband would you call him "this guy"? Sometimes choice of words gives a good indication of the feelings behind them. You might be better off without a fickle fellow you never considered permanent, yes? —H.

L.A. Lakers Are Sitting Pretty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Los Angeles Lakers are sitting pretty, the Boston Celtics are in a comfortable position and the New York Knicks and Baltimore Bullets are up to their old painful posture—too close for comfort.

That's the National Basketball Association playoff picture today.

Los Angeles defeated the Chicago Bulls 106-101 Sunday to take a commanding 3-0 lead in their best-of-seven Western Conference semifinals.

The Boston Celtics took a 2-1 lead in their Eastern semifinals by beating the Atlanta Hawks 136-113.

And New York trimmed Baltimore 110-88 to even their Eastern series at 1-1, a typical Knicks-Bullets playoff set.

The NBA playoffs continue Tuesday with Boston visiting Atlanta and New York at Baltimore. Los Angeles can wrap up its series at Chicago Tuesday and Milwaukee, holding a 2-1 edge, plays at Golden State.

There were no playoffs in the American Basketball Association Sunday, but four games were played Saturday. In the East, Virginia beat the Floridians 125-100 to take a 2-0 lead in that series and New York topped Kentucky 122-108 in their opener. In West Division semifinals, Denver beat Indiana 106-105 to tie the set at 1-1 and Utah tripped Dallas 106-96 to make it 1-0.

The ABA playoffs continue tonight with Dallas playing at Utah.

The Lakers, led by their brilliant backcourt of Jerry West and Gail Goodrich, moved closer to a four-game sweep. But it wasn't an easy victory.

"It was a tremendous effort by the Bulls," said Los Angeles Coach Bill Sharman. "They gave 110 per cent. We had to shoot well to win and we did."

Chicago was at a disadvantage because center Tom Boerwinkle was out with injuries and forwards Chet Walker and Bob Love played only part-time due to injury. The Bulls fought back from large deficits to close within two points late in the third quarter and again in the fourth. But each time the Bulls threatened, there was West or Goodrich to throw in killing points.

West wound up with 31 points and Goodrich had 23. Wilt Chamberlain wound up with 16 points for the winners and knocked back several Chicago shots. Norm Van Lier paced the losers with 21 points.

"I told my players after the game they gave me more than I deserved," said Dick Motta, the Chicago coach. "They gave all they had—and more."

The Celtics rode the shooting of John Havlicek, Jo Jo White and Art Williams to victory over Atlanta. White got 15 of his 29 points in the first quarter and Havlicek fired in 15 of his 31 in the second.

Boston had a 48-33 lead at the half and moved it to 95-78 deep in the game as Williams came off the bench to ignite the fast break.

"When Artie gets into the game the team has to move to keep up with him," said Havlicek.

Williams scored 15 of his 19 points in the last stanza to help the Celtics pull away.

"Atlanta forgot that he's a shooter, too," said Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn. "They gambled on his passing the ball several times, but he shot and scored."

Pete Maravich led Atlanta with 37 points while Walt Bellamy had 21.

New York overwhelmed Baltimore behind Walt Frazier's torrid first-half shooting. Frazier, who finished with a game-high 30 points, scored 19 of them in the first half as the Knicks opened a commanding 56-34 lead at intermission.

Dave DeBusschere finished with 29 and Jerry Lucas added 20 for the Knicks. Archie Clark, who had led Baltimore with 38 points to pace Friday night's victory over the Knicks, wound get the clubs."

Archer beat Tommy Aaron on the second hole of sudden death. Palmer finished third, tied with Dave Stockton, Chi Chi Rodriguez and J.C. Sneed.

Archer and Aaron were in the clubhouse with scores of 12-under-par 27s when the dynamic Palmer burst out of a four-way tie for the lead with consecutive birdies on the 14th and 15th holes.

A 15-footer on the 15th gave the 42-year-old Palmer a two-stroke lead with three holes to play in the chase for the $40,000 first prize.

Thinks He Has Kentucky Derby

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jockey Ron Turcotte still thinks Riva Ridge is the best. Jockey Phil Rubbicco feels No 1 Le Haze will be the Kentucky Derby winner. And trainer Louis Glauburg now knows Solar Salute is much more than a conversation piece.

"Don't worry about the big horse, though, he's still the champ," Turcotte said Saturday after Riva Ridge, the Derby winter-book favorite, finished fourth in the $66,800 Everglades won by Head of the River in the slop at Hialeah.

"We're going to win the Kentucky Derby," an elated Rubbicco shouted after No Le Haze captured the $100,000-added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park.

Glauburg, who remarked last month that Solar Salute's Kentucky Derby nomination "was just a conversation piece," said of a trip to Louisville following the colt's victory in the Santa Anita Derby: "Yes, it's more than conversation row."

Riva Ridge, Meadow Stable's 1971 2-year-old champion who won his last five starts as a juvenile and his only previous race this year, appeared to tire and slammed against the rail at the head of the stretch in the 1 1/8-mile Everglades.

"If I had gotten out on the turn, it would have been shame on them all," said Turcotte. "But I'm not disappointed, he just had no shot. I could have rode like a dummy and got him killed but you only take chances with cheap claimers."

Cox Captures Macon Meet

MACON, Ga. (AP) — England's Mark Cox captured the $25,000 Macon International Tennis Tournament singles championship Sunday, defeating Roy Emerson of Australia 6-3, 6-7, 6-3.

The victory, which earned the 26-year-old tennis pro $4,500 in first-prize money, came after a referee's error cost Cox the second set of the match.

The referee inadvertently gave Emerson a point he had not earned, which allowed the Australian to win the tie-breaking playoff in the second set.

Neither player recognized the error until it was too late, but Cox's 6-3 victory in the third set erased any question of victory.

"It would have been nice to save some of the points for the next few games," said New York Knicks Coach Red Holzman.

Gil Hodges Dies From Heart Attack

By HUBERT MIZELL,
Associated Press Sports Writer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gil Hodges, a loveable giant who won Dodger fans with his bat and Met hearts with his brain, died on Easter Sunday when he should have been in a baseball uniform.

"Gil was walking," said Eddie Yost, "then tumbled backwards."

Yost and fellow New York Mets' coaches Rube Walker and Joe Pignatano had just finished a fun day on the golf course with their manager.

"Only reason we were playing golf," said Pignatano, "was that the players' strike put us out of business. Otherwise, we'd been over in the West Palm Beach ballpark playing the Atlanta Braves."

Yost still was stunned Sunday night.

"Gil had a beer with us," said the man who played 18 years as a major league infielder. "I think he also ate a piece of cake. Gil, Piggy, Rube and me shot the bull with Jack Sanford for awhile."

Sanford, a former star pitcher for the Phillies and Giants, is now golf pro at the public course that sits beside the Ramada Inn on the Lake.

Hodges and his coaches finally said goodbye to Sanford and began walking back to the motel.

Hodges, 6 feet 3 and 205 pounds with hands like a bear, dropped to the ground in front of room 158.

Despite speedy first aid, the man who would have celebrated his 48th birthday Tuesday was dead before he face when he went to the 16th tee on the Sedgefield Country Club course, a tough, 225-yard par three.

His usual massive gallery groaned when his wood shot began hooking far to the left, and came to rest in a shallow creek.

Palmer elected to play it out of the creek, and splashed it up short of a sand trap—but still had the bunker to negotiate to reach the green.

He dumped the little chip square in the trap, blasted out and two-putted for a six that knocked him out of the lead and put him one stroke behind.

Palmer parred in, then shouldered past officials, shrugged off newsmen and didn't even go to the locker room. The pilot of his private plane had to run to keep up as he left immediately without speaking to anyone.

That triple bogey represented his biggest collapse since he blew a seven-stroke lead with nine holes to play in the 1966 U.S. Open, which he lost in a playoff to Billy Casper. He had a final round 70 for 273.

And the big six left it up to the 6-foot-6 Archer and the smooth-swinging Aaron to battle it out in sudden death—the seventh playoff of the season and the second time they'd faced each other.

Both made routine pars on the first extra hole, the 15th. And then the 16th snapped up Aaron. Archer, who won the Los Angeles Open in a playoff with Aaron and Dave Hill, put his tee shot on the green.

But Aaron found another branch of the creek on the other side of the green, dropped out, chipped short and missed a long putt. He was lying four when Archer two-putted from 25 feet for the par that gave the former ranch hand his 10th tour title.

Reaction to Death

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

"Oh, no. Oh, no. Oh, no." Leo Durocher, manager of the Chicago Cubs, reacted with disbelief when he learned of the death of Gil Hodges, manager of the New York Mets and a longtime associate in the old Brooklyn Dodger organization.

"It's hard to find words to describe a guy as fine as he was—they don't come any finer, both on or off the field," said Durocher after learning of Hodges' death Sunday.

Hodges, 47, collapsed and died of a heart attack after playing golf at West Palm Beach, Fla. The sudden death prompted rich eulogies and brought deep sorrow to associates and former teammates.

"It was a tremendous shock and a tremendous personal loss," said Durocher. "And Gil's death is a tremendous loss for baseball—he was a great player and a great manager."

Casey Stengel, who managed Hodges both as a Dodger and in his final playing days as a Met, said Hodges "was always trying to do the right thing on and off the ball field."

"It's a terrible time. It's terrible to have the players on strike and then lose a man like Gil Hodges."

Reflecting on Hodges as player, Stengel said: "He looked like a dancer at first base. He played with as much grace as any person I ever saw."

"He was a terrific fellow—a high-class fellow who was different than most ball players."

Casey had high praise for Hodges' ability to fill almost any gap on the ball field. "This man was so good that when Brooklyn started getting a reputation as a good ball club, he became an individual star because he would play wherever he was told."

Walter Alston, the current manager of the Dodgers, said: "There was never a finer man in baseball. Baseball has lost a real big man. It was guys like Hodges, Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella who made it easy for me by helping a rookie manager when I went to Brooklyn."

Others associated with Hodges during his playing career in Brooklyn cited a keen personal loss.

"I'm sick," said Johnny Podres, the pitcher who gave Brooklyn its only World Series victory with a 2-0 conquest of the New York Yankees in 1955. "This ruins everything for me. We were such great friends and shared so many wonderful experiences. I've never known a finer man."

Not incidentally, Hodges knocked in both runs in that title-clincher.

Duke Snider, centerfielder on the great Dodger teams with Hodges, recalled a "great player ... but an even greater man."

Homer Pardue, trainer of No Le Haze, said the colt would be shipped to Louisville and would run once more—in either the Steppingstone or the Derby Trial—before the Kentucky Derby.

"I'm going to try to hold him where he's at," Pardue said. "I was kinda cranking him up for this. It was really the easiest race he's had. He just keeps improving."

"I hope nothing happens to anyone else but my biggest fear is that something will happen to my horse," Pardue said. "No Le Haze covered the 1 1/8 miles in 1:48 4/5, one-fifth off the track record."

"We could have broken the record," said Jockey Phil Rubbicco. "He was loafing at the end. We're going to win the Kentucky Derby."

Countdown After Lost Weekend in Baseball

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball completed its lost weekend and the countdown to opening—or non-opening—day reached two with more meetings scheduled today in an attempt to settle the players' strike in a pension dispute with the owners.

"The situation remains the same," John Gaherin, representing the owners, said following Sunday's session with Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association. "There is no progress towards a settlement. We will meet again Monday."

Miller said today's get-together probably would be enlarged from his head-to-head weekend meetings with Gaherin. "He's been talking about a fuller committee and I'll probably have one, too," Miller said.

He added that the weekend meetings were spent "rehashing and reviewing positions. Really, it's been rather fruitless. Mr. Gaherin has no authority to make any new offer. He is pretending to bargain."

The players went on strike Saturday seeking contributions from the owners above the one-and-only $400,000 offer for the health care segment of the pension package.

They contend that an $817,000

Little Man Catches Eye

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Hank Iba searches for the big men for his U.S. Olympic squad. However, it was a little fellow's play that caught his eye in the College All-Star basketball game.

"He's a hustler, he keeps moving. He may dribble a little bit, but he releases the ball," Iba said of Star of Stars Bill Shepherd after the East trimmed the West for the fourth straight time Saturday 96-91 in overtime.

Shepherd, a 5-foot-10 Butler guard, teamed with Travis Grant, Kentucky State's 6-9 all-time college scorer, to lead the East to an 83 edge in the series involving the nation's top seniors.

Shepherd, who was voted the outstanding player in the game after scoring 12 points and playing a brilliant floor game, prefers an Olympic shot to a pro contract right now.

"I'd love to represent my country in the Olympics," Shepherd said. "After all, when you're 5-10 you don't expect much money from the pros."

Iba, who coached the West squad, likes the idea. "I want to look at him more. I'd sure like to have him at the trials," said the three-time Olympic mentor.

Grant, who scored a team-leading 19 points and four in overtime, would not say he would turn pro and bypass the Olympics.

"I don't even have an agent yet," said Grant, who scored 4-045 career points. "I just want to go home and rest up."

Brasell Ties the Record

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — John Brasell of McNeese State has tied the Arkansas Relays record of 13.9 in the 120-yard hurdles.

Brasell equalled the record set in 1964 by Ed Renfrow of Arkansas, now the Razorback coach, during the relays Saturday.

He also placed second in the 440-yard hurdles with a 53.5 clocking, matching the time of Glen Carlson of South Dakota State. The two ran in separate heats and the winner was decided by a coin flip.

Ronnie Banburg of Louisiana Tech hurled the javelin 252.4, breaking the relays record of 251.7 set by Kent Floerke of Kansas State in 1965.

surplus in the pension fund—resulting from increased interest rates on loans, overfunding and overestimating payments for permanently disabled players—plus no more than $11,000 from each of the 24 major league clubs would make up the 17 per cent pension rise they seek.

Baseball's current pension plan, covering any player active from 1959 on, provides a pension after four years service. Players, who don't contribute a dime to the plan, may start drawing a pension at their 45th birthday.

A four-year player, at 45, gets $174.34 a month. With 10 years service, the pension at 45 is $436.36 monthly, and $582.36 after 20 years. The figures, for the same years of service, at age 65 are $618.04, $1,545.11 and $1,945.11.

Most players scattered from their training camps, but 23 members of the Kansas City Royals worked out in civilian clothes at a junior college in Fort Myers, Fla., and all but four of the Padres were to begin unsupervised workouts today in San Diego.

Meanwhile, Dick O'Connell, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, said he was not optimistic over settlement of the walkout.

"I see no indications of a quick settlement," he said. "I don't see any signs of either side budging."

Henley Tells Clubs About Recreation

PAUL HENLEY

This past winter was a busy one for the Hope Parks and Recreation Department, with basketball the number one item on the agenda. In the Junior Olympic program, two divisions for boys and two for girls produced a total of eighteen teams. The Midget Division, for boys and girls 11 and under, and the Junior Division, for 12 and 13 years olds, played a full season of 107 games with approximately 175 youngsters participating. Four All-Star teams were chosen to represent Hope in various tournaments. The Boys Midget Division All-Stars won third place at both the Regional and the State Tournaments, and the Girls Junior Division All-Stars came away with second place in their State Tourney. Two tournaments were held in Hope, one of them being strictly local with all Hope Junior Olympic teams, both boys and girls, included in the brackets.

Basketball was not limited to the youngsters, however. The Christian Athletic Association, with approximately sixty participants on six different teams, played thirty-four games. The Hempstead County Men's Independent Basketball League played fifty-six games with about eighty men on eight teams.

With baseball finished and baseball not yet fully underway, time allowed for a couple of new activities to spark interest. A Track and Field meet will be held Saturday, April 22, for boys and girls in two divisions: Bantam Division (9 and under) and Midget Division (10 and 11). In addition, a Hula Hoop and Frisby contest will be held Saturday, May 13, in four divisions: one each for boys and girls 11 and under, and one each for boys and girls ages 12 through 15.

Baseball, the largest organized activity sponsored by this department, gets under full steam the first of May. The Doctors League, for boys eight through ten, will field eight teams two nights per week at the softball field. The Little League, for ten through twelve year olds, expands this year to include a total of eight teams playing four nights a week at K-Park. Boys thirteen through fifteen years of age will play on one of five local Babe Ruth League teams competing with one Blevins team. Games will be played at Legion Field three nights per week. The 1972 District Tournament for this league will be held in Hope.

In addition, a Junior American Legion team, consisting of players on the Hope High School team, will begin play after school has been dismissed for the year. Also, several local independent teams will be organized to play whenever a field is available.

Softball was a new sport added to our activities last year and one which was enthusiastically received. The girls' program will be further developed this year for ages eight through fifteen in three different divisions. For the first time, each of the approximately twelve teams will have sponsors. The $50.00 sponsor fee will be used for uniforms and equipment which has not been available to the girls in the past.

The Christian Athletic Association will be going into its third softball season stronger than ever. There will be about twelve teams playing two nights per week at the softball field.

Improvements for our park facilities are a must and with the approval and completion of a federal matching grant through the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, some of them can be a reality. A combination project is being applied for: 1.) a new bathroom, lighting system, fencing, and equipment for the Fair Park Pool, and 2.) two new tennis courts with a tartan surface, one multi-purpose court for basketball, handball, and shuffleboard. All three courts would have a new lighting system and new fencing. With the completion of this combination project at least two additional organized activities in the form of swimming and tennis teams would be made available to the young people of our community.

Chilean Seizures Leave China Team Coming

Landowners Very Bitter

CHILLAN, Chile (AP) — Squatting in the middle of a rural dirt road in Nuble Province, six peasants guarding a crude wooden barricade topped by a Chilean flag played cars and smoked.

A few miles away, a dozen peasants held a retired naval captain on his own small farm which they had invaded a week before. Just down the road, peasants who seized a vineyard, lounged around the property and ignored the fruit rotting on the arbors.

Widespread seizures and invasions of private farms in this province, led by left-wing extremists and tolerated by the leftist government, have almost paralyzed Nuble.

"Where is this revolution of meat pies and wine that President Allende is always talking about?" Asked an embittered farmer. "Lies, lies, lies. Nothing but lies."

Chile's leftist government claims that nothing is happening in the province, Chile's second largest food-producing province. But a visitor can take a ride in the rolling countryside and personally see the "tomato," as the seizures are called in Spanish.

During a recent two-week period, more than 90 farms in the province 250 miles south of Santiago, were seized and occupied. Several roads were blocked and half a dozen persons kidnapped.

These land takeovers are part of a campaign by the Revolutionary Left Movement—better known by its Spanish initials as MIR—to force President Salvador Allende to expropriate all private farmland in Chile. There also is support for this within government circles.

Allende has stated that his leftist coalition, which includes

Communists and Socialists, only wants to expropriate Chile's big farms, the "latifundios." He said that farms below 80 hectares—197 acres—will not be touched.

His government already has expropriated about 2,000 private farms since he took office in November 1970. This year has been called by the government "the year of the end of the latifundios."

The government agrarian reform agency, CORA, also has been taking farms under the 8-hectare level, using a regulation which says a "badly worked" farm, whatever the size, can be expropriated.

There is evidence in Nuble that government functionaries are coordinating farm seizures with expropriations.

Of the 90 farms that were illegally seized, almost all were on a list of 137 farms scheduled for expropriation that was announced a week later.

Since then he has been making almost weekly trips to Washington and New York to make sure the tour of the United States by the Chinese table tennis team goes off without a hitch. He's even met with the President about the tour.

The State Department has left arrangements for the Chinese tour to Steenhoven.

The Chinese party of 20 players, six reporters and several table tennis officials will be headed by Chuang Tse-tung, three times world champion.

The two-week tour starting April 10 will reach Detroit, New York, Washington, Williamsburg, Va. either Atlanta or Memphis, and Los Angeles.

Nixon Not Standing Still

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — While Democrats cavort in Wisconsin, President Nixon isn't exactly standing still as the battle in this campaign week.

After spending an Eastern weekend in his Camp David lodge in nearby Maryland, Nixon returned to the White House by helicopter Sunday night—almost a certain sign that he recognizes this as an election year.

Although Nixon has promised to wear his nonpolitical presidential hat until Republicans nominate him for a second term in August, no recent president disinterested in politics has chosen to be around the White House on Easter Monday.

That's when the kids—local and tourist—join in a jollification labeled the annual White House Easter Egg Roll and, in the process, manage to tear up the lawn.

Some of the youngsters actually roll colored eggs down the gentle grassy slope beneath the balcony Harry Truman built. But most eggs manage to get squashed, or badly bent out of shape while being thrown at other celebrants.

Somehow, presidents of late have been far removed from Washington on most Easter holiday weekends. It has frequently been whispered that they deliberately delayed their return in order to avoid the backyard shambles.

Nixon decided this year to do things differently. He and his family flew a scant 65 miles away for Easter, attending Sunday services at Gettysburg, Pa.

By returning Sunday evening, he left himself open to distraction by the many hundreds of children who gather annually a scant stone's throw away from his Oval Office.

While a plentitude of Democrats—including his most evident potential rivals—await Tuesday's Wisconsin primary, the campaign-season fire horse in the White House just possibly may be getting a bit restive. After all, Nixon has been through more campaigns for congressional or higher offices than any likely opponent—even durable Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey.

In any event, this primary week will find Nixon visiting the hinterland, specifically, Ft. Campbell, Ky., presumably to say something about Vietnam. And his schedule for the rest of the week still has some openings.

Defends Food Prices

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Morris Bowman of Newport, president of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, has said that the nation's food prices are still below a level which enables farmers to get a fair return.

Bowman said on a television program shown Sunday over KARK-TV, Little Rock, that "people aren't yet paying a high price for food" despite an increase of almost 23 per cent at an annual rate in February, the sharpest rise in grocery prices in 14 years.

He said only 5 per cent of the increase was caused by higher farm prices. He said he was not sure who was responsible for the major part of the increase but that farmers would welcome an investigation.

"We have become so accustomed in this country to buying our food supply so cheaply that when prices reach anything like a level which would return to the farmer a fair share, then we all feel like we are being gouged," Bowman said.

He said farmers got only 38 per cent of the amount Americans spend for food. Farmers welcome plans by the Price Commission to begin hearings April 12 on food prices, he said.

"We would like publicity as to the farmers' share of the food dollar," Bowman said.

Rites of Spring Hit Beaches in Florida

By TAD BARTIMUS
Associated Press Writer
Beaches from Daytona Beach to Nassau have blossomed with bikinis, ball games and boys and girls looking for a good time and each other.

The annual rites of spring, spawned by the southward migration of hundreds of thousands of college students fleeing their campuses, is reaching its peak.

But in marked contrast to other years when the beaches were transformed into wall-to-wall bronzed backs, this year's sun worshipers were by and large orderly, law-abiding and even lethargic.

Police in Daytona Beach, jammed with upwards of 200,000 students, said Sunday that arrests have been kept to a minimum and most involve misdemeanors such as alcohol consumption, public intoxication, and profanity.

There have been a few arrests for possession of marijuana, but the biggest headache law enforcement officials have encountered has been the parking problem, said Ray Hutton, chief of the Division of Beach Safety.

Cars bearing license plates from dozens of states fought each other for space along Daytona's world-famous 10 miles of glistening white sands.

In Fort Lauderdale, where the beach boom was born about 15 years ago, authorities complained most about hitchhiking, which violates a city ordinance.

Other offenses committed by the approximately 20,000 migrants included panhandling, sleeping on the beach, and stealing food from grocery stores.

But washing hair and brushing teeth under the many open-air beach showers provided by the city was legal, and long lines formed at these.

In Nassau, where hotel rooms went for at least $40 a day per person double occupancy, innkeepers reported they were booked solid.

The wardrobe was the same among the basking batches—skimpy swim suits, sweatshirts emblazoned with school names of fraternity and sorority affiliations, cut-off jeans, sandals or tennis shoes or bare feet, and lots of peace-symbol jewelry.

Faint odors of beer, suntan oil, and pizza wafted for miles on soft sea breezes as blaring rock music reverberated from musicians blasting out the beat atop flatbed trucks parked alongside palm trees.

Wilkins Will Leave Coaching

SEATTLE (AP) — Lenny Wilkins, who led Seattle to its best-ever National Basketball Association finish this year while combining the talents of coach and player, says his work will be confined to the court next season.

Wilkins, 34, announced Sunday he is abandoning his coaching duties after three seasons in the dual role. His decision makes the SuperSonics the fourth NBA team in the post-season market for a new coach. Others are Portland, Buffalo and Philadelphia.

"I feel that I can continue to make a valuable contribution to the Sonics as a player next season and in the future," Wilkins said in a joint announcement with Sonics owner Sam Schulman.

Wilkins expressed disappointment that the Sonics still had never made the NBA playoffs after five seasons.

The Sonics finished their season with a 47-35 record and dued Golden State closely for the second Pacific Division playoff spot until being crippled late in the year with injuries to key players.

Returning GIs Tested for Drugs

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Before he comes home, each GI in Vietnam will be tested at least four times for heroin addiction.

Teams of military drug specialists helicopter into combat and noncombat areas every day to seek out addicts for rehabilitation programs.

White House and military drug-abuse specialists say about 10,000 enlisted men and officers—even generals—undergo surprise spot checks by urinalysis daily. Of those, about 500 are hooked or are at least casual users.

Drug-abuse specialists say there has been a dramatic decline in the number of GI addicts detected when their one-year tour ends.

But officials say that doesn't necessarily mean there are fewer soldiers on hard drugs.

Army Brig. Gen. John Singlaub, deputy assistant secretary of defense for drug and alcohol abuse, said the emphasis is on locating drug users before they become hard-core addicts and treating instead of punishing them.

Several months ago, congressional critics cited studies showing 15 to 20 per cent of GIs in Vietnam were hooked on drugs.

Since then, the Pentagon has begun testing young men even as they tried to enlist or were drafted.

Singlaub said the testing continues periodically for American soldiers all over the world.

But it is in Vietnam, where heroin is easiest to find, that the Pentagon has placed its greatest emphasis.

Of the just under 100,000 American troops remaining in Vietnam, 1.1 per cent are tested daily, Singlaub said in an interview.

The surprise checks of company-size units usually show that 5 per cent of those tested are heroin addicts.

Dr. Jerome H. Jaffe, director of the White House office on drug abuse, said even generals are tested.

From a high of 4 per cent addicts plucked from among departing GIs last August, the figure has dropped to 1.1 per cent in mid-March, officials say.

Jaffe acknowledges that the toughness of the testing program and its spreading reputation among GIs has the effect of only netting addicts who cannot keep away from the needle for five days to pass the departure test.

He says a better measure of the number of addicts in Vietnam now is the 5-per-cent figure turned up in the spot checks and what he says is an increasing number of volunteers for treatment programs.

Wants Mosquito Elimination

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Congressional candidate Jack Coleman of McGehee says that if elected he would call on the Agriculture Department to try to develop an effective program to rid South Arkansas of mosquitoes.

"Since tourism is an important source of income and a stimulus to the economy, it is most important that an all-out program be instituted in the state," said Coleman, one of four Democratic candidates for Congress in the 4th District.

"I might add the mosquito is another red flag in South Arkansas that discourages industry from locating in the area," he said.

Autobiography Data

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — Attention Authors: Planning to write an authentic autobiography? Why travel? Why pay a researcher? Why go through the drudgery of clipping and pasting? Why spend weary hours talking into a tape recorder?

I have available extensive autobiographical material never before used for a book, including personal data, pictures, movies, letters, drawings, handwriting specimens and tapes.

And I can vouch for their authenticity, too, since they all document the life and times of our firstborn, Brenn.

Shortly after we acquired a son, who weighed in at 6 pounds, 11 ounces, we also acquired a huge leather-bound scrapbook, which weighed in at slightly more—empty. Since then we have filled it with all sorts of items of doubtful historical value. But what they lack in quality, they make up in quantity.

First, there is a day-by-day, almost hour-by-hour, account of his physical growth. Then there is a detailed record of the growth of his accomplishments, from his first resounding burp to his initial attempt to walk alone, plus official notation of the appearance of every tooth.

Mementos of his early years include his first letter to Santa Claus, dictated to his mother—a lengthy missive that closed on a note of compromise: "It's okay if you don't bring me everything, as long as you bring me something."

Nestled in the pages of that bulky scrapbook are Brenn's kindergarten bus tag, the notebook page on which he first printed his name, his Junior Air Line pilot license, his Cub Scout graduation certificate and the clock face he made at school out of a paper plate.

There are the contracts he habitually executed with his younger sister, assigning to her his slightly-used lollipop, 10 baseball cards or escort service to the 10-cent store in exchange for a half hour of her viewing time on our single television set.

In addition to the memorabilia stuffed into the scrapbook we have any number of other things that have to be valuable source material:

Some 1,372 still pictures, the first of which was taken in the hospital by a proud father when the subject was eight hours old; movies dating from the star's exodus from said hospital; tape recordings that preserve for posterity Brenn's first full sentence, which happened to be "I rode a green street-car" and his dramatic but lisp-ing rendition of "The Night Before Christmas" at age 2½.

What a wealth of background information for the lazy author! But, on second thought, I think I'll write somebody's autobiography myself. Let's see, now, what was the name of that publisher again ...

Jim: "It is easy to learn about finesse. It is a lot harder to learn when not to finesse and which finesse, if any, to take when you have a choice."

Oswald: "South made no effort to get to seven, even though North showed both missing aces. North's bidding had limited his strength, and South knew that at best seven would be on a finesse."

Jim: "Actually it was. If South could pick up the queen of spades he could discard one of dummy's diamonds on the long spades and make a grand slam."

Oswald: "When South looked at dummy he was glad he had settled for six. He also noted that six was in danger after the diamond opening. He had a choice of finessses in the black suits."

Jim: "He also had a better play that would risk a two-trick set. He tried the better play and made seven."

Oswald: "The play was to draw trumps and then cash the ace and king of spades. There was a 35 per cent chance to drop the queen. If it didn't drop South could still try the club finesse but it did drop and South made all the tricks."

A—Just bid four spades. Your partner could not bid over one heart and is not showing much strength now.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three spades, your partner has bid four spades over your two spades. What do you do now?

QUICK QUIZ

Q—In the Olympic parade, what is the order of procession in which nations pass in review?

A—By tradition, the Greeks, heirs of the athletes who competed in the first games more than 2,000 years ago, lead the parade. The host nation always marches last.

Q—How does the New Testament of the Bible compare in length with the Old Testament?

A—The New Testament consists of 27 books, and is about one-third as long as the Old Testament.

Costly Navy Plane Proves Big Headache to Congress

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A costly new Navy fighter plane may give Congress a fresh headache if the prime contractor insists on more money to build it.

Evidence indicates that the contractor, Grumman Aerospace Corp., will demand more money than provided in the original contract for building the swing-wing F14 fighter the Navy claims it needs.

The looming debate has raised the specter of the C5, the giant military cargo plane whose cost far exceeded the original estimate and left some congressional pursuwatchers enraged.

"We want to make damn sure this doesn't turn into another C5 controversy," said an aide to one Senate Armed Services subcommittee member.

Grumman officials are scheduled to testify before the subcommittee April 17 as it continues its investigation of the project.

"They'll be here, hat in hand, looking for a new contract to cover their losses," another observer said of Grumman.

According to a General Accounting Office audit published last September, Grumman will lose at least $367 million by the time all 313 planes have been researched, built and delivered.

The tab would come to $5.2 billion, including research and development, separate contracts with the engine manufacturer and electronics firm, and the Grumman contract. That's about $16.8 million per plane.

Grumman's share would be a maximum of about $2 billion, according to a committee aide. Grumman refuses to divulge its estimate of expected losses. But Navy and Grumman officials and the subcommittee's acting chairman, Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., are known to have discussed the firm's projected losses in a closed hearing last week.

Despite the secrecy, there are indications the Bethpage, N.Y., firm will use its subcommittee appearance to:

—Claim its current contract was invalidated by Navy delays and design changes.

—And insist on a rewritten contract that would include enough extra money to wipe out future losses, if not those already accrued.

Some observers predict Grumman will claim that fulfilling the contract as it is now written would financially cripple the firm.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Cold Front Coming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A cold front marching down from Nebraska pushed showers and thundershowers ahead of it across Arkansas today and brought the prospect of cooler weather for tonight and Tuesday.

The front was expected to cross into Arkansas during the day, and the National Weather Service called for the showers to end from the west tonight with skies clearing Tuesday.

The forecast said low temperatures tonight would range from near 30 in the northwest to the mid 40s in the southeast. Highs Tuesday should range from near 50 northwest to the low 60s in South Arkansas.

Overnight low temperatures included 56 at Fayetteville, 54 at Harrison, 50 at Jonesboro, 60 at Pine Bluff, 61 at Texarkana, 56 at Memphis, 60 at Little Rock, 61 at El Dorado and 57 at Fort Smith.

Rainfall reports around the state in the 24-hour period ended at 6:30 a.m. today showed traces at Fort Smith and Little Rock, plus .03 of an inch at both Fayetteville and Harrison.

GOP Candidate for U.S. Senate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Wayne H. Babbitt, who left a position Friday as director of the Little Rock office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, has announced that he will be a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Babbitt, 43, whose announcement Saturday had been expected, is the only Republican to enter the race for the job held by veteran Democrat John L. McClellan, who is seeking a sixth term. Three Democrats oppose McClellan.

Babbitt would make no prediction on who would win the Democratic race and declined to discuss several other topics raised by newsmen. He declined to discuss major issues at this point.

It would be improper for me to discuss any one issue," he said. "It might lead to other issues. I intend to discuss these issues with the people. I intend to go into this campaign with an open mind."

Babbitt, a veterinarian, said he left his federal job to run for the Senate because he thought it is not enough to sit on the sidelines and criticize the manner in which government is run. He said it was important to become involved.

Babbitt said he had been involved in the last 10 years trying "to make government more responsive to the people."

He ran unsuccessfully for the state Senate in 1964 and served 2½ years in the Republican administration of former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller as director of the Livestock and Poultry Commission.

Argentine Kidnapers Reportedly Caught

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
Associated Press Writer
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Alejandro Lanusse announced late Sunday that the kidnapers of Oberdan Sallustro had been arrested but the Italian automobile man was still missing.

More than 5,000 police kept up the search for the 56-year-old general manager of Fiat's Argentine subsidiary. He was seized March 21 by guerrillas of the Trotskyite People's Revolutionary Army, the ERP.

"The investigation will continue in an effort to locate his whereabouts," Lanusse told a near-midnight news conference at the presidential residence.

The police said they raided a house in the northern suburb of Chilavert where Sallustro had been kept, but he had been transferred to another ERP commando group four hours before the police closed in.

The missing man's fingerprints were found in the cellar of the Chilavert house along with the bed in which he was shown in photographs distributed by the ERP, police said. A communique said $25,000 also was found in the house.

Lanusse said the abductors had been "identified and arrested," but he did not give their names or say how many were picked up. He said they were members of the Workers Revolutionary Party, an illegal political group which split into two factions two years ago, with militants forming the ERP.

Last week, police named six men and a woman as the kidnapers; and unofficial sources said at least six persons had been arrested.

Sallustro's company agreed to pay $1 million ransom demanded by the kidnapers, but Lanusse ordered the firm to do nothing that would aid the guerrillas "concretely or psychologically."

Nursing Home Visits

The Rho Epsilon Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda at Red River Vocational Technical School during the past year selected as a community service project visitation of residents in the nursing homes in Hope.

The advisor and chapter officers met with the supervisor or head nurses of each of the four nursing homes—Hempstead Memorial, Hope, Heritage Manor, and Branch Manor. Plans were presented and given the wholehearted approval by the nursing home staff.

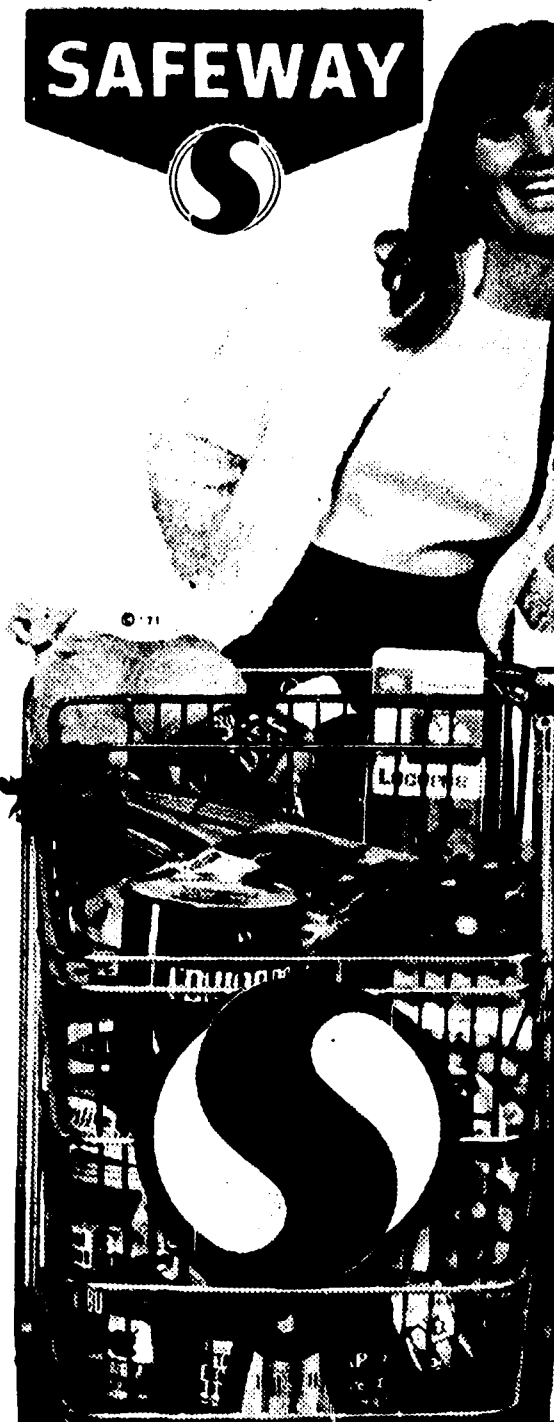

Upon returning to the school, plans were made to visit the nursing homes at least once a week to assist each resident with a favor that had been requested by a club member.

Members were divided into four groups and assigned a home as well as a week for being responsible for the gift. The visitation would continue through May 26, 1972.

During the visits to the homes, books were read to the residents, grooming services performed—such as manicures, hair combing and brushing, etc.; letters were written and gifts were presented.

One of the things most enjoyed by both chapter members and nursing home residents was the "sing-in" that concluded each visit.

This experience was most rewarding and helped to brighten the lives of the residents in the nursing homes.
